imma rant a little here: i hate it when people comment "i'm here for the gay" or "my gay babies" it really irks me. it's just describing the characters as their only character trait is that they're gay when there's so much more. ok, rant over, bye bye.

It kind of hurts how his whole race is depending on him to kill the beacon, yet that's the one thing he doesn't want to do. I have a feeling that the end of the series will be him coming back to the shark-people castle, to fulfill the only prophecy where he dies.

i'm glad people enjoy the gay but can we take a moment to appreciate that the romance aspect isn't forced right off the bat AND it's being slowly developed? In addition, i'm in absolute love with how the characters are being developed

Man, it must suck to be an author when you're trying to make a genuinely moving story with great plot and character development, but it happens to contain boyslove and so the only thing everybody ever focuses on is the gay.
